

Searching for Truth Through Information Literacy

In this issue:

- What is Information Literacy?
- What is a QEP?
- SACSCOC visitation
- Information Literacy Lexicon

Information Literacy Defined

Information literacy “is the set of integrated abilities encompassing the reflective discovery of information, the understanding of how information is produced and valued, and the use of information in creating new knowledge and participating ethically in communities of learning” (ACRL).

QEP Q&A

Q: What does QEP stand for and what is it?

QEP stands for Quality Enhancement Plan. Our accrediting body, SACSCOC defines a QEP as “a well-defined topic or issue(s) related to enhancing student learning.” The QEP must be attainable, measurable, faculty-driven, and tied to the mission of the college. For further information and resources visit www.lfcc.edu/truth

SACSCOC Visits Oct. 10-12, 2017

It is imperative that Lord Fairfax Community College’s faculty, staff, students, and other constituents are aware of our efforts to enhance Information Literacy. A SACSCOC reviewer may ask you about Information Literacy. Be on the lookout for future newsletters to keep you educated and informed on Information Literacy!

Check out the books while Dr. C revolves them!

If you did not receive a copy of the Information Literacy Lexicon, terms associated with Information Literacy, and would like a copy, please contact Stacey Ellis at sellis@lfcc.edu. The lexicon can also be found online at <https://lfcc.edu/wp-content/uploads/2016/03/Information-Literacy-Lexicon.pdf>

